GALLINA Professional, Jin Rudolph, is Honored by Northwest Asian Weekly as a Rising Star - Young Women of Color

Sacramento, CA – January 26th, 2007 – GALLINA, LLP – Jin Rudolph was an honoree at this year’s Rising Star gala luncheon. The event, which is sponsored by Northwest Asian Weekly, recognized eleven diverse up-and-comers who have already made significant strides in their careers and community. These women were nominated by community members and were selected by a panel that considered their leadership, initiative, professional accomplishments and community dedication, among other criteria. These rising star women of color, who are no longer teenagers but not quite 40, were honored for establishing themselves as leaders in their professions and/or communities and they represent the promising leadership in communities of color.

Jin is a manager at GALLINA LLP’s Bothell, Washington office and has been with the firm since 1999. GALLINA LLP is a full-service certified public accounting firm specializing in construction, real estate, government, and a broad range of other businesses and individuals. Building businesses since 1970, GALLINA LLP has grown to a solid team of 18 partners and over one hundred staff members who have a wide range of experience in accounting, tax planning, claims consulting, finance, and business management. GALLINA LLP serves its clients through offices in Sacramento, Roseville, Walnut Creek, San Jose, Novato, San Bruno, Chico, Reno, and Seattle/Bothell. The firm’s general client base spans the Western Regional States, but provides specialty services for small, mid-sized, and multi-national corporations throughout the entire United States.

Jin manages some of GALLINA’s largest construction industry clients throughout Washington and California. In addition to providing traditional year-end services — such as audits, reviews, and compilations — she has expertise in design of job cost systems, as well as reporting systems for consolidations and joint ventures. She also provides assistance with financial forecasts, budgeting and projections, tax planning strategies, payroll tax filings, and monthly and quarterly bookkeeping.

Jin is a graduate of the University of Washington with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Accounting. She has spoken on construction related topics at surety companies, as well as professional associations. Jin is a member of the Washington Society of Certified Public Accountants and a member of the Associated General Contractors. In addition, she serves as Treasurer of the Puget Sound chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction. ###
